

ICS Update

DEAR FRIENDS,

The Institute of Chinese Studies (ICS) remains actively engaged in disseminating informed analysis and fostering discussions on a broad range of topics related to China and East Asia.

EVENTS

The ICS conducted seven events in February 2025 and March 2025.

FEBRUARY

The ICS, New Delhi, organised the 2025 Gargi & V.P. Dutt Memorial Lecture, with the support of the Gargi and V.P. Dutt Foundation, and in collaboration with ThePrint as its media partner on 12 February 2025. The lecture, titled "Russia, India, China: Problems and Prospects of Building Greater Eurasia" featured Babaev Kirill Vladimirovich, Director, Institute of China and Contemporary Asia of the Russia Academy of Sciences; and, Chair, Russian National Committee, Council for Security Cooperation in the Asia Pacific; and, Deputy Chairman, Presidium of the Scientific Council, BRICS National Research Committee as the distinguished speaker. He characterised the current global shift as a complex game with emerging players and unpredictable outcomes, and was driven by dissatisfaction with US dominance in international politics and the global economy. Manoranjan Mohanty, Distinguished Professor, Council for Social Development; and, Emeritus Fellow, Institute of Chinese Studies, New Delhi chaired the event, providing a brief background on the Gargi & V.P. Dutt Memorial Lecture series, highlighting its significance and origins. (YouTube)

The ICS organised a seminar titled, Reimagining Feminism in Journey to the West: Agency, Power, and Gender Dynamics in the Chinese Classic on 19 February 2025. The speaker was Aditya Kumar Pandey, Assistant Professor, Department of Chinese, Sikkim University. The seminar focused on feminist representations in Journey to the West, a 16th century satirical novel by Wu Cheng'en. Exploring aspects such as agency and power, the speaker highlighted three archetypes of female characters in the novel and revealed the complexities of gender in Chinese literary traditions. The session was chaired by Usha Chandran, Assistant Professor, Jawaharlal Nehru University; and Honorary Fellow, Institute of Chinese Studies, New Delhi. Dr. Chandran reflected on the tendency of men to impose moral virtues and the steadfast need for women's resistance, highlighting how the novel reinforces the traditional views on gender, power and agency. ## MARCH

On 5 March 2025, the ICS organised a seminar titled, Negotiating Statelessness: Tibetan Youth, Citizenship, and Exile Politics in India. The speaker was Kalyani Yeola, Research Assistant, Institute of Chinese Studies, New Delhi. The presentation explored the historical context, the policies of CTA, legal battles, youth agency, and future outlook. Ms. Yeola noted that Tibetan youth are actively reshaping the narrative of exile, and their evolving perspectives offer valuable insights into the future of identity politics and refugee governance. The session was chaired by Tshering Chonzom Bhutia, Associate Professor, Centre for East Asian Studies, School of International Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University. Dr. Bhutia shared how the youth are negotiating the binary of statelessness and citizenship, and the precarity of their situation as they consider the existential realities of unemployment. The ICS organised a seminar titled, Engagement or Confrontation? Japan's Strategic Dilemma in Dealing with North Korea on 12 March 2025. The speaker was Debendra Sahu, Assistant Professor, Japanese Studies, O.P. Jindal Global University. The seminar explored Japan's dilemma of whether to engage or confront North Korea. Examining key perspectives like domestic pressures and regional security concerns, he highlighted that the potential for effectively pressurizing North Korea remains uncertain. The session was chaired by Srabani Roy Choudhury, Professor in Japanese Studies, Centre for East Asian Studies, School of International Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi. The chair noted that the bitter historical legacies will not impact the region as much as the nuclear missile program of North Korea. \(YouTube\)

Participants at the Round Table on Innovation: Comparing China with the United States and Europe

On 17 March 2025, the ICS organised a round table titled, Innovation: Comparing China with the US and Europe. The lead speaker was Alicia García-Herrero, Chief Economist for Asia Pacific, Natixis CIB; Senior Fellow, BRUEGEL; and, Non-Resident Fellow, Institute of Chinese Studies, New Delhi. Biswajit Dhar, Honorary Fellow, ICS was the moderator.

In a two-part presentation, Dr. García-Herrero first provided various datasets on the economies of India and China, comparing their current situations and future prospects, including their bilateral economic engagement. She highlighted India's positioning in global trade and manufacturing and the challenges and prospects on various fronts for its economy. Additionally, Dr. García-Herrero provided a comparative analysis of the leadership and positioning of the US, Europe, and China on the innovation of critical technologies of AI, quantum computing, and semiconductors. Furthermore, discussions on the US-China competition and implications for global tech governance, innovation ecosystems, and challenges and prospects for India were of particular focus in the round table.

The ICS organised a seminar titled, A Review of China's Implementation of the UN's Women, Peace and Security Agenda since 2015 on 19 March 2025. The speaker was Li Yingtao, Professor, International Relations, School of International Relations and Diplomacy, Beijing Foreign Studies University, China. The seminar examined China's approach towards the UN's WPS agenda, focusing on policy implementation, evolving state perspectives, and the role of international frameworks. The speaker noted that the Chinese government is actively contributing to global gender initiatives and maintains a supportive stance on the WPS agenda. The session was chaired by Usha Chandran, Assistant Professor, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi; Honorary Fellow, Institute of Chinese Studies, Delhi. The chair pointed out that despite the highly positive attitude, the level of political participation both at the grassroots level and higher level is still not as much as one would expect, and she urged further investigation into why there was not enough change. On 26 March 2025, the ICS organised a seminar titled, Sino-US relations: Breakdown or Realignment of Ties? The speaker was Atul Aneja, veteran journalist of foreign affairs; and former Editor, India Narrative website. The seminar focused on Sino-US relations in the context of policy shifts and evolving dynamics, examining whether the existing tensions indicate a breakdown or a realignment of ties between the two nations. Mr. Aneja examined the possibility of a realignment of ties, emphasising the need for global dialogue. The session was chaired by Alka Acharya, Director, Institute of Chinese Studies, New Delhi; Chairperson and Professor, Centre for East Asian Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi. The chair noted that the conversation is still multipolar because China exercises the economic and strategic clout necessary to force the US to engage in conversation with it. (YouTube)
